A: I don't believe wordpress allows you to upload files. What you could do is to use a free service like Dropbox to store your documents online. With that you can download and upload files directly on WordPress. WordPress itself has no capacity to do that. Exemple: You can not upload an excel spreadsheet that contains images like logos, etc. A: You may give your employees access to Dropbox. After they download the file, you can upload your template using their credentials (assuming they have sufficient privileges to do so). Make sure the path to your Dropbox folder is configured correctly when asked on your site. 'use strict';
